

Cookies Policy

Policy Statement

Leo Lynch respects the privacy of all visitors to our website. This Cookie Policy outlines our policy concerning the use of cookies on leolynch.com.

We may update our Cookie Policy from time to time to reflect any changes in technology or legislation which may affect the way in which cookies are used by us and how you as a user, can manage them.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files sent from a website and stored in the user's web browser while user is browsing a website. They label your device with a unique ID which helps the website keep track of your visits and activity. Cookies can provide a useful service by remembering your username and password, language preference, preventing fraud by authenticating devices, remembering items in your shopping cart or personalising your user experience based on previous visits or browsing activity. More information about cookies and details of how to manage or disable them can be found on www.aboutcookies.org.

Categories of Cookies

Strictly Necessary

Strictly necessary cookies are cookies that must be present for the website to provide the basic functions of the website. They are essential to be able to access features of the website and could include signing in, adding items to a cart, or e-billing. These types of cookies don't collect or store any personally identifying information.

Performance

Performance cookies monitor site performance and follow user actions. These cookies do not collect identifiable user information – they obtain data anonymously and only use it to improve the performance of a website.

Functionality

Functionality cookies allow websites to remember the user's site preferences and choices they make on the site including username, region, and language. This allows the website to provide personalized features like local news stories and weather if you share your location. They are anonymous and don't track browsing activity across other websites.
